

Experience the New Generation in Hair Removal

*Shaving, waxing, tweezing, depilatory creams and epilators...
Are you tired of the same old hair removal routine?*

IPL Permanent Hair Reduction is now even more effective, safer and more AFFORDABLE than ever.

IPL is an intensive and concentrated light treatment used to treat hair removal performed by a specially trained therapist.

IPL uses the pigments (colour) in your own hair (excludes grey, white & red hair) and a concentrated light to form a heat energy to destroy the root of the hair. Using the hair's pigment, it is most effective on areas with darker and thicker hair like the bikini, underarm, men's chests and back.

A built in chiller tip in the IPL unit minimises the superficial heat eliminating the pain and only leaves the client with a slight pulse/flick like sensation. This feeling is very mild and tolerable though typical anaesthetic creams may be used if required.

After a session the skin may look and feel flushed. This is common and may last up to 24 hours.

A programme of 6 – 8 treatments is required and are scheduled 6 – 8 weeks apart. This will vary from person to person depending on each one's skin and hair type. These will be assessed at the time of your initial consultation. Results will also vary depending on skin and hair type.

An initial consultation is essential. This involves a detailed explanation of how the treatment will work and most importantly a test patch to determine skin tolerance to the levels of light.

The area to be treated must not be exposed to any waxing, electrolysis, tweezing (shaving is fine) or any tanning source (UV or spray tans) up to 4 weeks prior to and during the hair removal programme.

The removal of the hair from its follicle and the change in skin colour will affect settings required for optimum results.
